BULGARS WANT ARBITRATION

Greece Also Welcomes Russian Assistance in Eastern Question

ACCEPTANCE IS NOT CONFIRMED

Bulgaria Is Against the Balkan Premier's Meeting

London, June 14.—Official confirmation of the news of the acceptance of Russian arbitration by the Balkan allies is still lacking, but diplomatic circles believe the report to be correct. Bulgaria desires arbitration immediately, and as a consequence is opposed to the meeting of the four premiers, as that would tend to delay matters. The proposed meeting of the premiers was primarily responsible for the fall of the Guechoff cabinet, which is likely under the new circumstances to remain in power. Bulgaria felt that she would be outnumbered by the premiers met and while consistently opposing such a meeting, has as consistently demanded Russian arbitration. Greece also desired Russia's aid to settle the quarrel and assent.

A Salonica dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, dated Wednesday last and delayed in transmission reports a furious and indecisive engagement between the Bulgars and Servians. The Bulgars made an attack at the junction of the Servian and Greek lines. They were repulsed, but, desirous of fighting continued, evidently for the purpose of testing the Bulgarian strength, for a Servian counter-attack.

Many arrests have been made in Constantinople in connection with the assassination of Scheffet Pasha. Among the alleged conspirators in the hands of the authorities is General Salio Pasha, a former aide to the sultan. A paper found on one of the prisoners contained the offer of a reward for the assassination of the grand vizier, signed by a number of the opposition party, residing in Egypt.

Orders Lower Rate on Coke.

Washington, June 14.—General readjustment with reductions of about 12 percent on the freight rates on coke from the Connellsville region in Pennsylvania to furnaces and steel mills, both east and west, was ordered yesterday by the interstate commerce commission. Reparation aggregating millions of dollars was not allowed.

PUSH MINE INQUIRY.

Senate Committee Divides in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., June 14.—Determined upon a speedy termination of its probe of the West Virginia coal strike, the United States Senate sub-committee sitting here yesterday planned to divide the inquiry into at least two parts. While the bulk of the committee took testimony as to general conditions in the strike zone, Senator Borah planned to conclude his portion of the investigation into the charges that "citizens had been tried and convicted in violation of the constitution and laws" by the examination of former Governor William E. Glasscock. In the strike district conditions returned to normal legality yesterday, following the proclamation of Thursday night by Governor Hatfield ending martial law and withdrawing the few soldiers in the field.

The proposition of dividing the inquiry and allowing the senators in charge of the various divisions of the investigation to proceed individually to examine witnesses encountered strong opposition from the attorneys representing the mine operators, who took the position that they could not maintain their case before more than one committee at a time. Governor Hatfield's letter declining to furnish the committee with the records of cases tried before the last military commission was discussed by the committee yesterday, and, while no formal action was taken, the committee was practically agreed that no further action should be taken toward demanding that the governor produce the records.

Thursday's visit to Cabin and Paint creeks, the heart of the mine disturbances, convinced the committee that conditions in the strike districts are now practically settled, and Chairman Swanwick declared that an effort would be made to conclude the hearing as soon as possible.

Former Governor Glasscock was on hand when the committee began yesterday's hearings. Attorney General Lilly and Judge Advocate General Wallace took charge of the state's case. Major Thomas B. Davis denied that he had ever interfered with the miners getting their mail.

"We had to keep those men from crowding around the railroad station and we made them disperse," he said, "but no one who said he was going for mail was interfered with."

Major Davis said he imposed $283 in fines on miners at Eskdale and sentenced miners who were unable to pay fines to work under guards.

"Most of these men I fined were working miners, not strikers who were bringing whiskey into the martial law zone," said Major Davis. Major Davis said that as marshal of the provost court he had been instructed to try minor offenders and to send other prisoners to the military committee at headquarters for trial.

BRYAN WILL CARRY HIS LUNCH.

Secretary Believes He Can Save Time by Toting a Basket.

Washington, June 14.—Secretary of State Bryan, inventor of "grape juice diplomacy," announced yesterday that he contemplated another innovation. Beginning next week he proposes to carry a lunch basket down to the war, state and navy building every morning.

"Mrs. Bryan has already bought the basket," the secretary declared yesterday. "I figure I can save about an hour a time by eating my lunch in the office, and also I can do a little dieting."

If Mothers Only Knew!

By Dr. True

Nineteen-twentieths of the sickness of children have two causes: constipation and worms!

The danger of constipation is understood, but there are 50 different kinds of worms that may exist in the stomach and bowels, and children are especially apt to have them. Usually stomach and pin worms.

Signs of worms are: Indigestion, with a variable appetite; abnormal craving for sweets; nausea and vomiting; swollen upper lip; sour tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; face at one time flushed, then pale and in a few cases the face takes on a dull leaden hue; eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids; itching of the nose; itching of the rectum; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; little red spots sticking out on tongue; starting during sleep; slow fever; pulse quickened and irregular; body may be hot; and, often, in children, convulsions.

Rid the child of worms and you will have a healthy, happy child.

NOTE—Dr. True's own prescription, sold under the name of Dr. True's Elixir, is the best remedy in the world for worms. It destroys all worm life, expels worms from the body and makes the child healthy again. All dealers, 35c, 50c and $1.00.

LABOR NOTES OF WIDE INTEREST

Never Give Up.

A keen, energetic, reliable, steady and staunch worker in labor's cause has written us recently that he has become "discouraged" in the movement and feels like "giving up." The question arises, What is it that has discouraged him? What dampened his ardor, stayed his energies and depressed his zeal? It cannot be the power of the enemy or the magnitude of his task. On inquiry we find it is the "carelessness and indifference," the jealousy and apathy, and "knocking and fault-finding" that exists in the ranks of labor itself, and so after standing the "gaff" as long as he could, he is compelled to acknowledge that he is weary and sick at heart of the work and is ready to resign his "thankless job" and take a "back seat."

There are few in any walk of life who are fortunate to escape such moments of "depression." It is easy to be contented with one's self and the world as we find it, if our only object in life is to secure a good position, appear well dressed, gain the applause of the crowd and the good fellow-out for a good time; but set yourself to do any really great and noble work and you will inevitably meet with opposition, derision, fault-finding and defeat. This in itself is enough to discourage anyone, even those of bull dog dispositions. Every time your friend betrays you, every time your fellow man goes back on you, every time you are left to "paddle your own canoe," every time support, assistance, encouragement and advice is denied you, you will be tempted to become discouraged and disheartened in the work, and to commit the sin of turning your back on the thorny path that you know is the right one, to shut your eyes to everything around you and in your cowardice give up. In the labor movement there is no giving up. Thursday night in Governor Hatfield we must go forward, onward and upward; we must fight for justice and right and better things.

If we know our friend, and we think we do, whose letter caused us to write this article, he is not made of the stuff that easily gives up, that succumbs at the first defeat. Feeling as he does is the best proof that he is fitted to do the work before him, which as one knows, must be done by someone. He must remember that for every blessing the world now enjoys we have to thank men who felt as he does scores and scores of times before success crowned their efforts; he must remember that hundreds of men spent their all in the struggle and went down unremembered, unknown and to unknown graves, thinking that their whole life was a failure and cheerful only by the thought that they did their best, and no man can do more.

So our friend will find consolation and satisfaction in knowing that this discouragement is a sure sign that he, too, has a chance of making himself worthy of a place among the brave among those who were just and fair in all things at all times whose steadfastness in the stand they took could not be shaken by frowns or threats or sneers. Be brave of heart, your work in the labor movement is a noble work. Set yourself to accomplish the task before you and you will succeed. Remember you are not only letting your own conditions, but you are paving the way for future generations to have and enjoy better things. Why, then, should you be downcast and discouraged?

Senator Martin of Virginia has announced that he intends to urge the enactment of his bill to prevent the employment of both husbands and wives by the government. By a cursory investigation of the various government departments, it is brought to light that the custom of both husbands and wives working for the government is common. The bill of Senator Martin has been introduced and will be pressed for the passage upon the ground that husbands should support their wives and that the government should not countenance the employment of husbands and wives.

A national committee on prison labor is proposed by Senator O'Gorman. The committee, according to the bill, would seek to provide employment which would promote the welfare of prisoners to prevent unfair competition between prison-made goods and goods made by free labor and to obtain, if possible, for dependent families of prisoners a fair proportion of the prisoners' earnings.

In one form or another, laws creating pensions for mothers have been enacted in thirteen different states since 1911. These laws, while similar in many respects, arrive at the result sought to be achieved by different methods. The states which are credited with these laws are Illinois, California, Colorado, Washington, Utah, South Dakota, Idaho, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. In addition, Missouri has authorized Kansas City to adopt a system similar to the laws in the states mentioned. Wisconsin, without any definite legal enactment, has been meeting the needs of the mothers in a limited way, and in three other states city ordinances or the powers bestowed state boards have established the principle of widow's pensions. Similar laws are now under consideration by seven other states.

The painters and paper hangers in the city of Ottumwa, Ia., are on strike and the employers have been unsuccessful in securing any competent workmen to fill the places of the strikers. A vein of humor enters into the situation some of the advertisements inserted in the local papers for non-union workmen, the following is a sample: "Wanted—Two live paperhangers; no bill posters need apply." Notwithstanding the strike now on, the members of the painters' union are all at work for fair employers, the employers having signed the scale, being rushed with work while the non-union employers are largely indulging in their union-busting operations.

Contractors on the reclamation work for the government, who work their laborers more than eight hours a day hereafter will be prosecuted, according to an announcement made on June 3 by Secretary Lane of the interior department. Secretary Lane has issued orders requiring a complete record, including the actual working time of every employee, to be kept on each reclamation project. Any violation of the eight-hour work day order is to be reported to the attorney general for prosecution.

Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas has introduced a resolution for the creation of a presidential commission to investigate the operation of the natu-

I WAS BADLY BLOATED

I Could Not Get My Shoes on, My Feet and Legs were so Swollen.

Dropsy is usually caused by organic disease. It may be the heart, or liver, or kidneys. Some times the lungs. But there is a form of dropsy that is caused by thin blood. The serum of the blood exudes into the tissues, causing dropsy. It is a very serious condition sometimes, but there is much more prospect of relief, since there is no organic disease behind it. The blood is thin for want of proper assimilation of food. The digestion may be poor. In these cases Peruna is a very excellent remedy.

Read what Mrs. Randall says: "I have been a sufferer from Bright's disease nearly six years; also chronic catarrh for a much longer time. One doctor said there was no help for me. 'Then I wrote the Peruna Medical Department. My body was badly bloated and my feet were so swollen and sore I could not get my shoes on. Now the swelling is gone and I can wear shoes with comfort all the time. At the time I first wrote them, when I stepped on my feet it felt as if there were pins piercing the instep of them. I suffered excruciating pain and ache in my back and limbs. Since taking Peruna and Manalin I have been greatly benefited. I shall not cease to recommend Peruna whenever I have an opportunity."

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

alization laws in federal and state courts. Mr. Murdock declares that the big steamship companies are anxious to have naturalization made costly and difficult, so that aliens will return to their own countries, thus insuring the steamship companies a larger proportion of outward bound steerage revenues.

Give and Take.

The underlying principle of true business success is not the stifling of competition and the absorption by yourself of the entire interest you represent, but the broadening and expansion of your own methods until they are reflected in the methods of your competitor and neighbor.

Trade associations have done much to further this intermingling of interests, but there yet remains much more to be accomplished. This desired result can never be attained until the entire movement interests work together in complete harmony. No great good has been effected without the expenditure of time and effort, and first and foremost in any such educational movement is the elimination of personal jealousies and petty grievances.

In a business of the scope and magnitude of the monumental trade there are so many interests which if antagonized would effectually block the wheels of success, that it is imperative for each one to give and take to the fullest extent. Manufacturers and dealers may often differ in opinion as to certain phases of conditions governing their business, not from a selfish standpoint but each in the conscientious belief that his way of thinking is the right way.

Association meetings offer a grand opportunity for the discussion and adjustment of all such grievances, real or imaginary. A little yielding here, a little giving there, will smooth out the ruffled surface of dissatisfaction and clarify the entire atmosphere.—Granite, Marble & Bronze.

The Golden Age of Spinsters.

"The American Spinster" is the title of one of Miss Agnes Repplier's always delightful essays, to appear in the July Century. This is the golden age of spinsters, she says, when a woman with any go in her can get along perfectly well by herself. Enjoying complete freedom, she is to be envied by her woefully dependent sisters in France and Germany.

Mrs. Hamilton Tells How She Finally Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Warren, Ind.—"I was bothered terribly with female weakness. I had pains and was not regular, my head ached all the time, I had bearing down pains and my back hurt me the biggest part of the time, I was dizzy and had weak feelings when I would stoop over, it hurt me to walk any distance and I felt blue and discouraged."

"I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now in good health. If it had not been for that medicine I would have been in my grave a long time ago."—Mrs. ARTIE E. HAMILTON, R. F. D. No. 6, Warren, Ind.

Another Case.
